

SCHOOL BOY HIT BY AUTO, SERIOUS INJURIES RESULT

William Morris, Aged Seven, Is Victim Of Accident On Columbia St.

COLLAR BONE AND JAW ARE BROKEN

Head Lacerated While Cut Over Eye May Result In Loss Of Sight.

William, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris, Broadway, lies in a critical condition at his home with injuries sustained when he was run down by an unidentified man driving a coupe on Broadway near Columbia st. at 5:45 p. m. Thursday.

The boy's injuries are a fractured collar bone, a broken jaw and severe lacerations of the left side of his head, with possible loss of the left eye due to a cut.

William was crossing the street when the machine in which a man and two women, passersby stated, were riding, the boy stopped. So did the machine.

Thinking that he was to go ahead, the lad ran across the street just as the man put on full speed, striking William and carrying him for several feet.

Neighbors who heard the scream of the terrified boy took him in a house and called a physician who then took the injured lad to his parent's home.

The driver of the car stopped, and one of the women assisted in carrying the boy into the house. While the woman was in the house the driver, with the other woman in the car, it is said, drove off in great haste, without giving his name.

In the excitement no one recognized the driver, or took his name. Instead he sped away, leaving the boy with injuries which may prove fatal. An X-ray will be taken today to determine whether any ribs were fractured. The boy's left eye was cut, and bled so that the sight may be lost eventually.

William remained conscious but could not give a clear account of what happened.

Of interest to the Salem people will be to learn that the soprano of this organization, Mrs. Odoran, formerly Esther Rummel, is a resident of this city.

For the last three years she had been studying under Prof. Whitney of Cleveland. Last August she entered the Academy of Music at Detroit where the quality of her voice was at once declared to be "a rare one with unlimited possibilities."

Since then she has become a member of the Detroit News Choristers, who not only broadcast for the Detroit News, but engage in general concert work both in Detroit and the border cities.

Due to the favorable results of her broadcasting, Mrs. Odoran made her first public appearance, by special request, at Windsor, Can., under the auspices of the Church Women's Aid of St. George's Memorial. An enthusiastic audience was awaiting her, receiving her with more than ordinary greetings.

As a result of this first concert, she received the following acknowledgment of appreciation:

Salem Company Wins Suit For Milk Bill After Plant Is Sold.

The case of S. M. Stockton, transacting business in the trade name of The Salem Sanitary Milk company, against the Supreme Dairy company, of Alliance was tried in common pleas court, a jury being waived.

The case was submitted to Judge Graven of Ashland county.

Thursday afternoon Judge Graven announced his decision, finding in favor of the plaintiff and entering judgment in the sum of $11,477. This was a balance found due to the Salem company from the Alliance company for cream sold and delivered during the months of June, July, August and September of 1921, prior to the purchase of the stock of the Supreme Dairy company of Alliance by Ed. H. Campbell of this city, who assumed payment of the indebtedness.

The defendant claimed that there was a discrepancy in the amount of cream furnished and that it owed no part of the amount claimed by the plaintiff.

The court found in favor of the plaintiff's claim substantially in every particular. The business of the Salem Sanitary Milk company is now conducted at Salem under the name of the Famous Dairy company.

Salem company was represented by Attorneys Brookes and Thompson, of East Liverpool, and Metzger and McCarthy of Salem and Supreme Dairy company, of Alliance was represented by Attorneys Hart and Koehler of Alliance and Leone and Campbell of Salem.

TEACH CHILDREN CITIZENSHIP PLEA OF JOHN CAMPBELL

Representative Of Legion Speaks At Junior High School Meeting.

PARENTS HELP IS NEEDED HE SAYS

Supt. Alan And Miss Lewis, School Nurse, Also Give Talks.

An address on "American Citizenship" by John C. Campbell, a representative of the American Legion and short talks by Supt. J. S. Alan and Miss Nellie Lewis, school nurse, featured the interesting program at the Junior High school Thursday night held in observance of American Education Week.

The meeting of parents was attended by several hundred persons who watched their children at regular school work, and later heard the instructive talks by the speakers in the large study room.

Campbell, a former commander of the American Legion post, said in part:

"In representing the American Legion which is sponsoring this education week in the nation I have been entrusted with an expression of tremendous significance—American citizenship."

"Citizenship is something that we must strive for every day in school as well as in the home, on the street or wherever we are. It is something that our children especially must learn."

"Until recently parents took only a small academic interest in the schools and what their children were doing in the schools. Parents now take an interest in the vital matters, mainly because of the work of forming Parent-Teachers associations."

Parents Show Interest

"Parents now co-operate in making our schools what they should be—places where American citizenship must be taught constantly. This meeting tonight is an example you have come to learn something of the school where your children spend most of their waking hours. Miss Lewis and Supt. Alan have given some details of school work that you never would have known if you had not taken an interest in these meetings."

"American citizenship is one of the most valuable things a child can learn in school. In fact the school system is the one major means of reaching our citizens to be and teach them how to be intelligent citizens."

"The war taught us valuable things. We found that 20 per cent of the men who fought for America could not write a letter back home, could not even read a newspaper intelligently. What is wrong?"

"It means that we must every day teach our children how to be intelligent citizens so that when the supreme test comes in every person's life he may be able to meet it with confidence, knowing that he is secure in a knowledge of American citizenship."

Before Campbell's inspiring talk Miss Lewis and Supt. Alan gave statistics concerning the work of Junior High pupils, and other pupils in the city.

POPULARITY CONTEST PROVIDES CLOSE RACE

Three Girls Working For Diamond; Miss Schmid Now Leading.

With the three main contestants in a neck and neck race, the popularity contest conducted as a feature of the firemen and police benefit circus this week is drawing to a close and at 11 p. m. Saturday the votes will be counted and the winner announced.

Miss Clara Schmid is now leading. She is pressed closely by Miss Rosa Rogers, with Miss Hazel Knapp not far behind as third.

These three girls have been selling votes for two weeks and the large number they have secured indicates the interest taken in this feature of the circus.

When the contest closes Saturday night the firemen and police will present the most popular girl with a beautiful diamond ring. All money that the girls take in goes directly to the benefit fund of the two city departments.

Large crowds packed the indoor circus rooms Thursday night. The marquee grows more popular each night. Crowds watch the splendid wire act outside and then go in to see the free acts and buy things at the various booths and then dance to the strains of live music.

One of the most frequented parts of the hall is the spot where the Royal Women of the Christian church have a refreshment booth.

Special novelties and surprises are planned for Friday night Saturday.

M'CARTHY CHOSEN FOR INTERLOCUTOR

Attorney To Be In Charge Of First Part Of The Elks Follics.

Extra! Another added attraction for the Elks' Follics of 1923.

Atty. H. L. McCarthy who made such a hit as Dyke in "The Valiant," one of the four successful Community Players shows recently, has been selected as interlocutor for the first part of the follics which will be called: "Elks In The Land of Burnt Cork."

The show will be given at the Grand theater, Dec. 3 and 4.

It is doubtful if any one in Salem is more qualified to act than McCarthy. He was the star of the stirring drama two weeks ago and has had a wide experience in things theatrical.

The addition of this stellar performer to the long list of notables for the cast will add not a little to the success of the show. He will have charge of the minstrel part of the production and is already busy learning hundreds of new jokes and announcements.

Chairman Robert T. Curtis of the general committee, under whose auspices the show was produced three nights in October, has ordered 100 seats. This theater party will sit with the delegation from the Alliance lodge, who have reserved 75 seats.

The ticket committee reports a record sale of tickets to date.

WAREHOUSE LOOT IS TWO MILLIONS; ONE MAN JAILED

"Master Mind" Being Held Following Recovery Of $25,000 In Gems.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Recovery of $25,000 in gems and $6,000 in War Savings Stamps from what police termed "one of the eight secret homes of Dr. Spencer Brown" and the announcement, following a new arrest, that the evidence would be ready for the grand jury today, marked developments in the investigation of the Werner Brothers' warehouse robbery.

A new list issued by the Pinkerton Agency of losses in the bold coup of oxoacetylene bandits a month ago, stated estimates of the total loot to $2,000,000 with nearly a million in jewels missing in addition to the million and a quarter in negotiable securities warehouse officials admitted were taken.

Dr. Brown, arrested on a mysterious telephone tip, has admitted to police that he was a "master mind" but denied all connection with the gigantic robbery.

The War Savings Stamps held by police were seized in a raid on one of Dr. Brown's town homes in Antioch where evidence was discovered leading to the recovery from a safety deposit vault in an Antioch bank of a $25,000 pearl necklace, concealed in a box of complexion powder.

ROUNDUP IN SOUTH BARES OPERATIONS ON LARGE SCALE

Savannah Is Distributing Point For Buyers In East And North.

RING PROTECTED BY FEDERAL MEN

Department Of Justice Is Striking At Source Of Booze Supplies.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The 136 persons named in the indictments returned by the federal grand jury at Savannah, Ga., have distributed among themselves more than $39,000,000 in illicit liquor profits, officials of the department of justice said today.

The fortunes quickly made off smuggled liquor are shown partly by ledgers of the bootleg operators and by bank deposit books and other data which have fallen into the possession of special agents of the department.

One of the ringleaders handled $10,000,000 worth of smuggled liquor from Nassau, Bimini and other wet shipping points the past year. The distribution of this great stock of wet goods was made from Savannah by freight and express through main railroad routes to northern points.

Chief Burns of the bureau of investigation today promised further startling disclosures, as the roundup of indicted defendants proceeded in a score of cities through the east and middle west.

Federal grand jury proceedings are under way in other cities and officials of the department of justice and internal revenue bureau are co-operating in efforts to get indictments that will strike at the source of liquor supplies.

Protected By Federal Men

Liquor lawlessness has been permitted to gain great headway, because until recently no successful attempt has been made by the government to stop smugglers, and their financial backers in American coast cities according to the department of justice.

Involved in the Savannah indictments are numerous federal dry agents who are alleged to have protected the liquor smuggling traffic through the Savannah gateway. So secure were the Savannah operators in their belief of immunity from punishment, that they virtually defied special under cover men who were sent out by the department of justice several weeks ago.

To what extent public officials of dry agents are mixed up in the "graft" charge will be made known later by the department when its complete report is compiled of all arrests under the Savannah indictments.

"We are not after the 'hip-pocket' bootleggers, but we intend to get the main-spring of the liquor business—the big buyers, the big distributors, and those who will finance them," was announced officially to be the future department of justice policy.

Council's Program

CITY COUNCIL has mapped out a big, constructive program for 1924, one which will require serious consideration and which, if accomplished, will spell progress for the city. The solons have promised to tackle the sewage disposal plant bugaboo and to give consideration to a city building code and extension of city limits. Of the three the first is all-important, although all are worthy of consideration.

For several years residents north-west of the city have been collecting damages from the city because the filtration beds at the disposal plant do not work properly. Their claim to these damages has been proved so often that the city makes a settlement in every instance without fighting the case through the courts. This is an annual drain on the city treasury which might be stopped by rebuilding the sewage beds. The cost, while perhaps much greater than the annual outlay for damages to farm lands, would be met eventually, while under existing conditions the expenditure will be endless. It is time some steps were taken to stop it.

Extension of the city limits and adoption of a city building code should be given consideration, but not at the expense of other problems. The water situation must be met. Council has already given that question more serious consideration than have citizens generally, but the solons cannot quit now even in the face of the defeat suffered at the November election. Their program should be one of education, for too many people believe that there is an inexhaustible supply of water under Salem. These people must be given that water, if it is there, or they must be made to realize that there is a limit to underground water sources. If the present system is to continue in operation, no small amount of money must be spent on repairs. This in itself is a greater problem than most people realize.

Another problem that council should consider within the coming year is that of handling the constantly increasing traffic. It is a problem that every city is trying to work out, but it assumes greater proportions in those cities whose main thoroughfare is not very wide. Salem is in that class and, being on a national highway, it gets its full share of tourist travel. Salem has only one through street that is parallel to Main st. It has been suggested that as much of the local traffic as possible be diverted from Main to East High st., and the latter be extended west. Here, then, is another problem for future consideration. It is possible that the request that part of High st. be paved will be granted, and if that street is to become one of the main arteries for traffic, the entire street should be improved.

All these are problems that merit consideration at once. To delay them until some emergency compels action is merely to invite a costly or hazardous undertaking. How much better it is to face such problems before they become so big as to appear un-surmountable.

Reappraisement

MANY cities and townships in the county have taken steps to meet the request of County Auditor Hamilton for co-operation in the work of property reappraisement in 1924. Salem is not one of these although reappraisal will mean as much to Salem as to any other section of the county. The auditor has proposed a novel and effective way of undertaking the task, and he should be given every encouragement possible. The News suggests that the mayor call a meeting at once in order that Salem's representatives on the advisory committee may be chosen.

Electricity Thaws Meat.

Frozen beef or mutton has been difficult to handle hitherto because of the care required to thaw it after shipment. Days were needed to defrost it properly, and during the process much of the meat was lost. If the defrosting was hurried, the meat lost its flavor.

A new method, whereby an alternating current of electricity is passed through the meat, promises material help for the packing industry. By the use of electric current an entire beef carcass can be defrosted in an hour, without deterioration and without impairing the keeping qualities of the meat.

This process is expected to be of particular value on shipboard, where it is most desirable to keep fresh meat frozen, but where, until now, slow thawing has prevented its wider use.

NEW HOPE FOR SIGHTLESS

French Scientist Asserts That It Is Possible for Persons to See Through Their Skins.

A Frenchman has lately startled the world with the extraordinary theory that the sightless may yet see—through their skins!

The scientist is Doctor Farigoule, and he points out that there is no scientific law which in itself opposes his theory that man may be made to see through his skin, even though he cannot do so with his eyes.

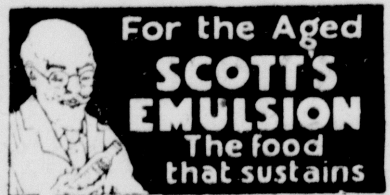

There is scientific proof that two creatures which have no eyes at all can yet see. These are the ordinary earthworms and a certain beetle which only comes out at night.

Many living things without ears, or any apparatus corresponding to ears, seem to have a fine sense of hearing. It is a well-known fact that our skin not only feels, but breathes, and to a certain extent does the same work as the kidneys in expelling waste matter. Doctor Farigoule states that the skin is an organ of sight, not as efficient as the eyes, but better than nothing.

It is not suggested that a man may close his eyes and suddenly see through his skin, but it is asserted that a man who cannot use his eyes may be trained to use his skin instead, and by this means distinguish colors and shapes and even read figures and letters.

Scientists are learning new things about the human skin every year, so that these wonders may yet come true.

Jesus Christ Only Hope Of This World Says Rev. Haworth

"Jesus Christ is the only hope of this world, and him and his atoning sacrifice is all it needs."

"In the shedding of the blood of Jesus lay the hope of a lost world. There is nothing in all this world that can answer the heart cry like the atoning blood of Christ."

This opinion was expressed by Rev. C. E. Haworth pastor of the First Friends church, in a sermon on "The Three Crosses" Thursday evening at the evangelistic service at this church.

"The middle cross on which Jesus hung gave to the world the supreme example of forgiveness. The cry of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost is 'be ye reconciled to God.'"

"If you are going to go with Jesus you will have to bear a cross. The challenge of Jesus Christ is the same today as it was when he was on earth. Joining the church without repentance will not do any good. Not many folks take the cross of repentance today. If you won't bear the cross of Jesus you will bear the cross of the shame of your own sins."

Tonight will be family night at the revival meetings. It is requested that all who can do so will come with their whole families and sit together during the service.

Mr. Cosand, singing evangelist, will sing some special songs appropriate to the occasion. Rev. Haworth will preach on the subject of "Home."

Friday night will be the last service of this week, but the meetings will continue during the coming week. At 3 p. m. Sunday there will be a special Children's and Young Peoples' meeting in charge of Mr. Cosand.

Wants Dole Receivers to Work.

The British government, finding the system of doles for unemployed persons becoming more and more burdensome and demoralizing, is considering ways and means for getting some work done in return for the help that the unemployed classes need. Gratuity merely subsidizes unemployment, increases idleness and lowers the self-respect and the morale of the community. The government is now urging railways to electrify, farmers to drain and improve land, towns to extend their public service enterprises, mills and factories to repair and renew equipment. The government will lend its credit to encourage all such work and use public money if necessary to finance it. The idea is to deal with unemployment by making employment rather than by distributing charity.

LIKE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD

Most-Sought-After Publication at the Government Docket Room in Washington.

It is a standing joke in Washington that nobody reads the Congressional Record if he doesn't have to, and then only under great protest. For this reason it comes as a surprise to discover that the Record is the most-sought-after publication at the document room of the government printing office and that the foreigners who patronize the document room consume Records in large numbers.

Other government publications on all subjects are in big demand among the foreign element, particularly the Japanese. Almost any day in the week will find the document room crowded with bespectacled Japanese waiting for documents pertaining to agriculture, shipping, the navy and all manner of American governmental activities, or leaving the printing office with large volumes of Congressional Records under their arms.

Among the other nationalities that appear to like the form of literature issued from the big printing office are the Russians. One day recently the writer saw a big Russian, who must have read English more fluently than he spoke it, get three bound volumes of the Record and depart all set for a festive session with the extended remarks of the gentlemen from various well-known states.—Philadelphia Public Ledger 1923 taxes become a lien April 8, 1923; the day preceding the second Monday in April. First half must be paid not later than December 30th, 1923. Last half must be paid not later than June 30th, 1924. The correct way to pay a full year's tax without penalty is to pay in December for December and the following June. Penalty on delinquent Real Estate and Personal Property is 10 per cent.

When writing for a statement of your taxes, remember property appears on the Treasurer's books in the name of the person having title on April 8th, 1923, and that the law requires the Treasurer's books and receipts to be made out in the name of the party owning property when the lien took effect.

In writing for statement of taxes, always send last receipt, or give name of owner in April 1923, stating plainly in what city, town or township located, and whether real or personal property.

When you write for statement or pay by mail, enclose a self-addressed envelope for reply.

Special taxes are written separately on yellow slips. If you have special tax insist on getting the yellow receipt before leaving Treasurer's Office and avoid delinquent notices.

Examine your receipts and see that they are correct before you leave the Treasurer's Office.

Treasurer's Office will be open from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m.

A Perfect Skin

No Blackheads, no blemishes ever

BY EDNA WALLACE HOPPER

Mine is a perfect skin—a skin which young girls envy—at the age of 62. After 40 years as a stage star, I look like a girl of 19.

I owe all this to a rich, ambrosial mother. She searched the world for methods to multiply my beauty and to keep her youth. She helps made me a famous beauty, and they keep me a beauty still.

Now I have arranged so every girl and woman may have those identical helps. Thus I hope to bring to millions the benefits I got.

My Facial Youth
One is a liquid cleanser which I call my Facial Youth. It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. So it cannot grow hair on the face. It cannot assimilate in any way with the skin. It simply cleanses the skin to the depths, penetrates every pore. When I wipe it off, all the dirt and grime, all that clogs the skin comes with it.

Clean the skin in the best other way you know. My Facial Youth will still remove much extra grime and refuse.

I cover my body with Facial Youth before bathing. Thus I remove much clogging matter which water fails to get.

Nickels and Dimes Built The Woolworth Building

The tallest building in the world—and all from nickels and dimes.

Most of us think nickels and dimes aren't worth anything—Woolworth knew differently.

HOW ABOUT THE HUSBANDS?

Writer Animadverts on Mrs. Belmont's Remarks on Slavery of Married Life.

Marriage, says Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, is a sort of slavery, and for that reason she would hesitate to recommend marriage to any girl. Why, not for the same reason hesitate to recommend marriage to any man? There are millions of average men in the world who are just about able to make ends meet, observes the Detroit Free Press. They are conscientious persons feeling the usual affection for their families and having a strong regard for the obligations which they assumed when they married and became fathers.

The result of these binding ties is that they work on year after year, paying the family bills, pinching a little sometimes off for life insurance, laying away to meet the cost of educating their offspring, struggling to get ahead to buy a home, and at the end of the first 25 or 30 years of married life they frequently find themselves just about where they started in a financial way, and beyond their prime physically.

They have, in a sense, been the slaves of marriage quite as much as their better halves, but it has not been observed that the outlook for hard work and small returns ever discourages the youth of either sex when marrying time comes. They seem to think the game is worth the candle and something over. Perhaps, notwithstanding Mrs. Belmont's doubts, they are right about it.

ROMANS USED SHORTHAND

Quintus Ennius Devised a System of Abbreviated Writing Two Centuries Before Christ.

Although shorthand is so widely used today, probably few people realize that, in a different form, it was popular in the days of ancient Rome.

The first mention of an abbreviated system of writing is made in connection with the Roman poet Quintus Ennius, 200 B. C., who devised a scheme of 1,100 signs for his own use. Then we have Plutarch's statement that Cicero's famous oration in the Roman senate, in 63 B. C., was reported in shorthand.

References to shorthand were made in the works of Cicero, Horace and Pliny, and the poet Ovid bears testimony to the fact that by means of these characters Caesar's political secrets were borne far over land and sea. Evidence goes to show that the Sermon on the Mount was reported in shorthand by St. Luke.

The writing was scratched onto tablets covered with a layer of wax. The tablets were afterward fastened together at the corners by wire, thus forming a sort of book.

Indian Canoe in Italy.

The American Indian canoe, which for centuries has plied only the streams and lakes of the North American continent, has at last found its way to the classic "yellow Tiber." Canoeing has become a favorite river sport of the Romans. On Sunday a dozen or more of the frail Indian craft can be seen in the yellow waters gliding along the shores in company with skiffs, shells, and motorboats. The graceful Indian water conveyance has become so popular that an Italian firm has commenced the manufacture of them. They took several American canoes as models and then began turning them out by the scores. A canoe club also has been organized and many Americans have joined. Paddling to the perfection of the Indians has not yet been achieved. The Romans make vain effort to keep the canoe headed straight, but a change of paddles is necessary after every few strokes.

Strange Town of Midgits.

A curious little town, in a pretty rural section of Germany not far from Berlin, has a population of 70 adults and a number of children, the entire population being made up of Lilliputians. The houses, shops and theaters are on such a diminutive scale that a person of average size would have difficulty in entering.

They have a tiny fire department with hose wagon, hook and ladder and a steam engine drawn by Shetland ponies. The policemen are scarcely larger than big dolls, and the postmistress, though sixty years old, is about the size of an eight-year-old child. Some of these little people earn a livelihood by circus and stage exhibitions, but most of them are stay-at-homes, and excel in toy making.

Ground Isn't the Limit.

A gentleman who considered sleeping gowns insubstantial for street use was having a tilt with a designer. "Gowns," growled he, "are now touching the sidewalk. I suppose you have reached the limit and are satisfied."

"I'm satisfied," stated the designer, "but we have never reached the limit in long gowns."

"That?"

"We could make the women wear stilts."

Maybe It Was a Stand-Off.

A country lad went to New York and tried to secure a job on the police force. He passed the physical tests, but the written examination gave him a little trouble. One question was: "A man buys an article for $12.25 and sells it for $9.75; does he gain or lose on the transaction?"

After pondering over the question our rural friend answered: "He gains on the cents, but loses on the dollars."

Lisbon Pupils Will Observe The Town's 120th Anniversary

Lisbon, Nov. 23.—Lisbon has passed her 120th birthday anniversary and the community has had no celebration of this character since the Centennial celebration of the town in 1902.

The Junior High school of Lisbon, of which C. A. White is teacher, has announced however that "Historic Lisbon" will be celebrated in the school some time in December, the date to be announced and the 90 odd students are making preparations for the event.

The students have been making special study of Lisbon's history and of the lives of former Lisbon men and women, a number of whom have become national figures, including the ancestors of the late President William McKinley, Mark Hanna the Valandighams, the "Fighting McCooks," and many others of prominence.

The boys and girls are visiting every spot of historic interest in the town, and on Thursday visited the old Valandigham home on West Lincoln way.

TO LOOK PRETTIER END CONSTIPATION!

Constipation is often a cause of pimples, unhealthy complexion, dark rings around the eyes, fatigue, nervousness and irritability. And one of the chief reasons this condition is allowed to exist is because so many women dread to take harsh cathartics that pain and cramp and often leave one more constipated than ever when the drug effect wears off.

Rel yourself of this handicap! Win back the flush of youth and beauty—the health and charm of schoolgirl days. Take a good vegetable tonic such as Dr. H. S. Thacher and now used by thousands of women to help correct constipation without straining—to improve digestion—to nourish the system—to soothe and ease tired, overtaxed nerves—to build up the system and put on firm healthy flesh and send purer, richer blood coursing through your veins.

Try just a spoonful of Dr. Thacher's after the next few meals. Notice the quick difference in the way you eat, sleep, look and feel! If not completely satisfied your druggist is authorized to return your money.

Liver and Blood Syrup
Tonic

The Auditorium management has contracted for the Yale University "Chronicles of America," a history of our country in picture form. No effort has been spared by the university to make this picture of our history, true, realistic and artistic. It follows the 50 volumes by the same name issued by that institution a few years ago.

One chapter of about four reels will be shown each month; the first is named "Columbus," and will be offered on the 20, 21 and 22 of December.

JAPANESE TAKE REAR SEATS

Attitude of These People in Public One of Modesty and Humble Apology.

On entering a meeting late (church, address or public gathering) a Japanese invariably pauses at the door to bow in the direction of the platform—a combination of innate politeness and humble apology for the discourtesy of his tardy presence.

The Japanese shows a marked preference for a seat at the rear of the room and a position on the nearer end of a seat, his modesty occasioning those who follow him increasing inconvenience—"For when thou art bidden to a feast, sit not down in the chief seat; lest haply a more honorable man than thou be bidden. But go and sit down in the lowest place. For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted."

A person who is forced to make a way for himself through a crowd or in front of others does so in a cross between a crouch and a bow, expressive of supreme humility, murmuring the while, "Osore imashi" ("I go in trepidation"). Two Japanese quite out of place in debating precedence at narrow gate or door—"Dozo, o saki ye" ("Please, to the honorable front.")—Stewart B. Nichols in the Outlook.

Wouldn't Commit Himself.

Numerous ladies now study law, are admitted to practice and become ornaments of the bar. A Supreme court judge met one of the youngest in the corridor of a public building. He bowed and paused to remark: "You are the prettiest lawyer I ever saw, and I may add, one of the best."

She thanked him and passed on. "Which compliment did you prefer?" asked a friend who had overheard. But the lady, being a good lawyer as well as a pretty girl, refused to commit herself.

Set That Brings Louder Signals

Satisfactory Regenerative Tuner Is Modification of Marconi Type.

By BERTRAM W. DOWNS

The set here described is absolutely the "last word" in regenerative tuners. It is a modification of the old Marconi "multiple tuner," which was at one time the standard equipment in the old Marconi ship and shore commercial stations.

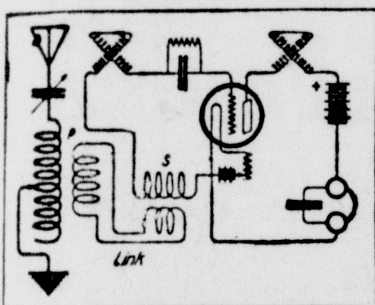

Besides eliminating one adjustment, the advantage of bringing in louder signals than the standard three-circuit regenerative, and at the same time being more selective. How these results are made possible will be explained below.

Referring to the diagram, it will be seen that this tuner possesses an unbalanced intermediate circuit which transfers the energy from the primary to the secondary coils. This circuit consists of two and one-half turns of heavy stranded wire (Litzendraht) or several strands of lamp cord will serve admirably) about the primary and secondary coils. The efficiency of this circuit depends upon reducing the resistance of this intermediate section to as near zero as possible.

The primary and secondary are mounted at right angles to each other, so that the only transfer of energy will be through the intermediate closed circuit.

The functioning of this circuit is as follows: In transferring the energy from the primary to the secondary the character of the wave is changed from one of a given decrement to a wave of relatively lower decrement—that is, a "broad" wave becomes "sharp" in the secondary circuit, due to the negligible damping of the intermediate link circuit. This, of course, means that less interference will be experienced from stations whose wave-lengths are nearly the same.

For best results the link circuit coils should be wound about the part of the primary and secondary that is in circuit at all times. This will insure the maximum transfer of energy at all waves. The primary should have about fifty turns on a 3 1/2-inch tube, and the secondary about thirty turns on a tube of the same diameter. The secondary may be mounted within the primary and at right angles to it, or may be used with the secondary folded in position at zero coupling and the link coils wound about the two inductances.

To sum up the advantages of this set it is well known that a single circuit tuner brings in slightly louder signals than a three-circuit regenerative, due to the close coupling inherent in the former. The three-circuit set, on the other hand, is much more selective. By the use of the intermediate link, all the advantages of tight coupling are obtained without its disadvantages, its broad tuning.

The writer, who has had a set of this kind for eight years, can bring in signals distinctly from all parts of the country through interference from WBAI and WLAG three miles away. A crystal detector set using the same principle brings in NAA (1,400 miles distant) practically any night.

To Strengthen Signals. When using more than 100 volts on the amplifier plates of the tubes a small grid battery will often increase the signal strength. Get a small flashlight battery and connect the long spring directly to the grid terminal of the amplifier socket. The wire that was connected to the grid is then connected to the short spring of the battery.

SECRET OF HIS SUCCESS

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this country in a recent article said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe it all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration and the greatest helpmate of my life." Health is the first essential of every woman who wants to be a successful wife and to hold the love and admiration of her husband. If a woman finds her energies flagging and dark circles appearing under her eyes she has backache, headache, nervousness and "the blues," she should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the medicine which holds the record of helping 98 out of every 100 women who try it. There is nothing better.

Thanksgiving Dining Room Furniture

Hundreds of years ago a Pilgrim Father would shoulder his blunderbuss and go out to shoot a turkey. On the day of Thanksgiving the Pilgrim Mother would roast the luscious fowl in an open fireplace, and then—serve it on a crude, rustic table.

This year millions of American homes will also have their turkeys—roasted in modern ovens—and served in beautiful dining rooms.

For all the homes in Salem and vicinity we have a message. Make this Thanksgiving day a gala event—of course, with a turkey, and also with a new Dining Room Suite. We have a large display of Dining Room Suites at various prices. We would be glad to have you pay a visit to our store and see our assortment.

G. O. P. CAUCUS IS TOPIC OF GOSSIP

OBJECTION TO "TOO MUCH EAST" MAY DEFEAT GILLET IN CONTEST FOR SPEAKER.

OTHER PLACES WEST WANTS

By EDWARD B. CLARK
Washington.—Gossip is concerning itself with the coming Republican caucus for high places in the house of representatives. Naturally the chief interest is in the Republican caucus, because that party is dominant in the house and the high places are to be its possessions by the right of majority rule.

Apparently there is to be some opposition to the re-election of Frederick H. Gillett as speaker of the house of the next congress. The word has it that "too much Massachusetts" will be one of the planks in the platform of opposition to the re-election of the Bay state representative.

It also is hinted in places that "too much East" will be one of the planks of the platform in opposition to Nicholas Longworth as Republican leader, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Longworth is from Cincinnati. Some of the Republican members in opposition intimate that Mr. Longworth "thinks too much like the East."

William J. Graham, Republican of Illinois, is the man who will be pitted by his friends against Mr. Longworth for the post of leadership. Mr. Graham is able and has made considerable of a record for himself in congress, but it is said there are progressives and progressive-radicals who think that he is a little too conservative to qualify for a representative position as one of their spokesmen. However, he is a Westerner as the geography of politics has it, and there is likely to be a struggle with considerable interest attached.

Madden May Oppose Gillett.

The division in the caucus will furnish food for speculation as to the legislative lineups of the future, although admittedly it will not serve as a safe guide for thought on the chance of progressive, or, if you will, radical measures to secure majority consideration. Seemingly there are Republicans who prefer Graham to Longworth, but who are not radicals by a long shot.

Occasionally surprises come in speakership and leadership contests. It has been suggested in Washington that Representative Martin B. Madden of Chicago might, with entire propriety, be drafted as a candidate to oppose Representative Gillett for the speakership. Mr. Madden has had a great work to do in connection with appropriations. He is said to have recovered from his recent illness, but the appropriations life is a strenuous life, while the speakership life since the days of the curtailing of the speaker's power is far from strenuous and yet it carries with it high honor, for the speaker of the house of representatives virtually is the third officer of government.

Representative Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, one-time senator of the United States and one-time candidate of strength for the presidency, has been suggested as a compromise candidate for the speakership in case the opposition to the continuance of Massachusetts in power shall prevail. Mr. Burton is recognized as one of the "scholars in politics," of whom there are not many left. It is urged for him that he would carry strength, knowledge and dignity to the chief house seat. Everything, however, is speculative in the speakership matter. Frankly, the chances seem to be that Mr. Gillett and Massachusetts will carry the day.

Ambition of Westerners.
Western progressives, or radicals, as their brethren in opposition term them, would like much to lay possessive hands on the chairmanship of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce. Here, again, the hint is that the Westerners look upon it as a case of "too much Massachusetts," for Samuel E. Winslow of the Bay state has been chairman of this highly important body for some time.

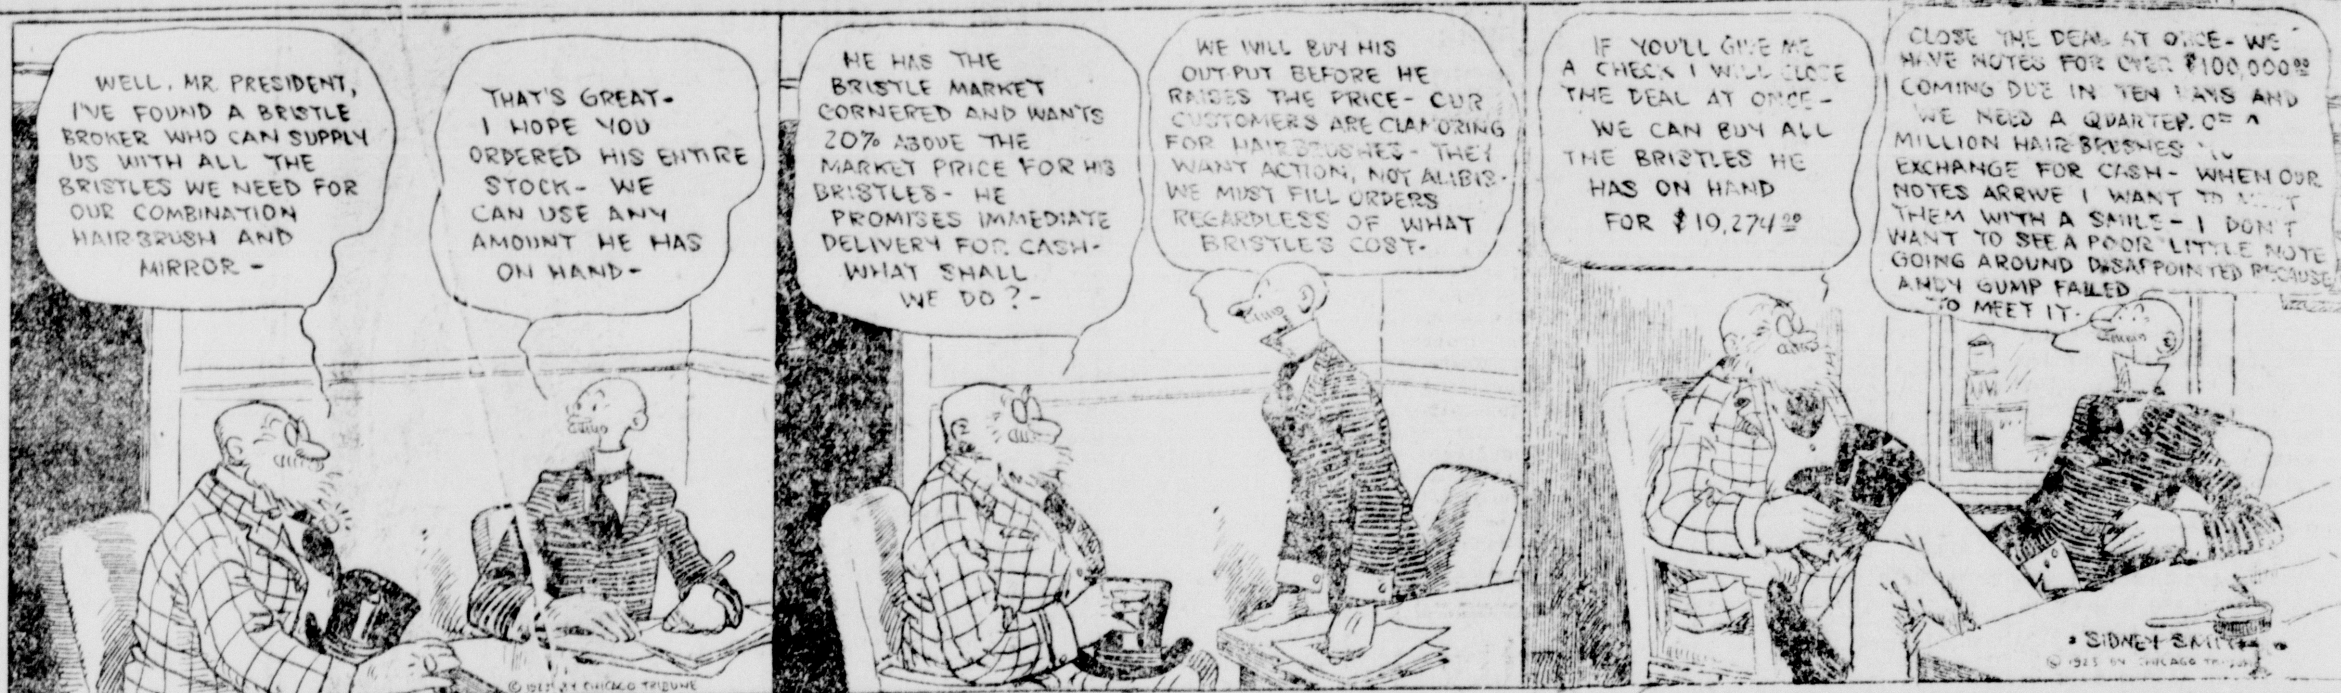

Those legislators who have made it a business to criticize the railroads upon every salient occasion would like to secure the chairmanship of the interstate commerce committee, for a chairman, as a rule, has more influence in committee matters than any two subordinate members. Again the prospect seems to be that Mr. Winslow will hold his seat, but the developments of the campaign against him are certain to present to public view certain details of the work of the anti-railroaders which may be of interest to the country.

Then there is the ways and means committee, of which Joseph W. Fordney was the chairman in the last house. Mr. Fordney has retired to private life. The Republican who held by right of seniority the seat next to Mr. Fordney in the ways and means room is William R. Green of Council Bluffs, Ia. Mr. Green was judge of a District court in Iowa for four terms. He is said to be conservative minded and this has brought some opposition to him in the house from men who, geographically speaking, ought to be his friends.

It seems to be a fact that some of the conservatives whom it is proposed to advance in position in the house, or to allow to retain positions once held will have to be sacrificed in order to maintain cordial relations between the two elements of Republicanism.

Garrulous Parrot Bares Rum Cache

Southbridge, Mass., Nov. 23.—Does it pay to have a pet that knows your secrets. See for yourself.

A number of prohibition officers were sent to raid a block on West Main st. The officers swooped down on the block in the early hours of the morning.

The agents entered a house and confiscated 60 quarts of alleged contraband beer, three gallons of moonshine whisky, a quart of gin and a five-gallon copper still. They were about to leave with their booty when a parrot perched in a cage suspended from the ceiling cried:

"Have another; there's more in the bedroom!" The police took the parrot's advice, searched a bedroom and under the bed found a 50-gallon keg of alleged moonshine mash.

SATURDAY WILL SETTLE SECTIONAL GRID TITLE

Champions of the west, the Pacific coast and a co-champion of the east will be decided Saturday by the outcome of several colorful gridiron spectacles that have the fandom of a nation at white heat in anticipation.

The Illinois-Ohio State, Minnesota-Michigan, Yale-Harvard, and California-Stanford battles are the main games of the day. They will all be battles of the century as a post long ago phrased such important encounters.

Ohio State, a found and then lost team, faces the Illinois in a mysterious manner. Zupke is looking for the hardest game of the year. Wilce is laying plans to spoil the Suckers hopes for a championship.

Michigan her team torn by injuries, meets Minnesota in a traditional "little brown jug" battle. The Gophers are really doped to win. If the Wolverines remain unbeaten they will be in a tie for honors with the Illinois, should that team also win.

The Yale-Harvard series of annual tilts dates back over 50 years. It is the longest string of continuous meetings ever arranged by two American teams. And this year the voices of 60,000 fans will rent the air for their favorites in the greatest game of them all.

There are also many other games of large dimensions that will attract thousands. Chief among them in this locality is the Carnegie Tech-Notre Dame game at Pittsburg. Tech is naturally not expecting to win. Rockne's team, since the Nebraska debacle, has taken a turn for the good and ought to wade right through the Plaid.

The Army and the Navy will match goats and donkeys at New York in their annual settlement of supremacy. The Army will win, most eastern critics agree, as the Navy fell from heights of glory in midseason.

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning scalding sensation or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

SISKOWIC IS OUT FOR REST OF YEAR

Syracuse will wander from civilization to the trail of the Redman in Nebraska. Those Cornhuskers are a tough bunch and are after the scalp of the Athenians.

In the Western Conference, one more, we find such grid treats as the Wisconsin-Chicago Purdue-Indiana, and Northwestern-Iowa games. Iowa ought to win in a walk. Wisconsin will lose by a close score and Purdue will take the Hoosier battle from Indiana.

In Ohio, Wesleyan and Akron will furnish the thrills. Akron is a hard team. Wooster winning 8 to 0 from the Rubber City team. The Delawareans have won four games and will be out for blood. Gauthier says his team will throw all discretion to the winds as its last game of the year. Akron will lose.

Other games in Ohio are also of interest. Case should follow present policy and lose to Hiram. Denison will lose to Wooster. Reserve should beat Heidelberg and Carroll will find Detroit a hard nut to crack.

John Siskowic, Salem boy who has been starring at Wooster this year as one of the best pony backs in the Ohio wheel, sends word to his parents here that he will be out the rest of the season with an injured ankle. In scrimmage Monday night Siskowic sustained the injury. It was at first believed he would be O. K. for Saturday but Thursday he stated that a small bone was broken and that he would not walk.

Fans who had counted on seeing him perform Saturday and Thanksgiving will be disappointed. The Salem youth has been a sensation since the second game this year. If there is any possible chance Boles will put Siskowic into the game against Mount next Thursday.

New York — A Sunday morning church service broadcasted from here was heard by an amateur radio fan in Hull England. The sound carried so well that every word and every note of music was distinct and even the sound of the congregation leaving the church was discernable.

REPORT LANDIS IS TO LOSE HIS POST

There is a rumor which a certain sporting publication states is not without foundation, that Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, is to be given the air next spring or before.

Landis will not resign his $50,000 job, but organized baseball will abolish his position and re-establish the commission, to be composed of the heads of the two major leagues and a minor league official.

Landis gave up a federal judgeship for the post. He has won the respect of every lover of the diamond sport. There will be millions who will mourn his passing to the ranks.

EXTENDS LIMIT OF SEARCH FOR RUM

PROPOSED TREATY WITH GREAT BRITAIN WOULD HAMPER LIQUOR SMUGGLERS.

ONE FEATURE DRY DISLIKE

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—If the senate of the United States shall ratify a proposed treaty with Great Britain, this country's right of search of British vessels for contraband liquor will be extended nine miles into the sea beyond the present three-mile limit.

Also, if the treaty goes into effect, the right of British ships to bring liquor into American waters for the use of voyaging passengers will be restored, although, of course, the liquor, beer and wine consumed on the westward passage will be placed under lock and key as soon as the 12-mile limit is passed.

Already in Washington there are signs of strong objection to entering into this treaty with Great Britain. The dry interests, while liking the plan for searching British ships 12 miles out at sea, do not like that concession made by this country to British shipping interests which would allow them to bring liquor under seal into American ports. The drys claim, of course, that liquor can leak even through doors which are padlocked.

It can be taken for granted, also, that a little later strong opposition will come from the American shipping interests, especially those which are concerned with passenger-carrying across the great seas. It was well enough known that, even after the prohibition amendment to the Constitution went into effect, liquor was served on passenger ships controlled and run by this government or by companies answerable to this government. Then the lid of the law was clamped down on this practice of American ships and shortly thereafter the Supreme court made its decision which would prevent the rival foreign lines from bringing liquor into our ports even under lock and key.

Treaty Would Supersede Law.

It has been asked here, the Supreme court having made such decision, why it will be possible in the future to allow British ships to bring liquor into our ports. The answer is simply that the treaty is over and above the law of the land. If this country agrees in treaty form with Great Britain that it can do certain things, Great Britain can do them without violating any law of our land, the treaty having superseded such law as it affects the power with which this country has made its compact.

The draft of the proposed treaty between Great Britain and the United States to settle or alleviate the rum-running controversy has been approved by the imperial conference of premiers. This means that the premiers of the various British dependencies, which today are almost independent, have approved the action of the home government.

It is possible that in the treaty the words "twelve miles" will not be used, but that in place of them will appear "an hour's sailing distance from the American shore." This will enable the guardships of the United States to differentiate between fast-sailing ships and slow-sailing ships when they think it wise to exercise the right of search.

Smuggling Has Been Easy. It is, of course, an old story now, but it has been an exceedingly difficult thing to prevent liquor smuggling so long as the smuggling vessels with liquor on board have been allowed to approach unchecked to within three miles of the American coast. If a fog comes down, or if there is no guard vessel in sight, the landing of illegal liquor is a matter of only a few moments.

American officials have not had much difficulty in determining why Great Britain has been willing to sanction the 12-mile limit proposition. It is understood that the great body of the English people have experienced a feeling of shame that vessels flying the British flag should be engaged in large numbers in attempts to break the law of another country. It may be that the bulk of the British people is not in favor of prohibition, but Washington seems to have learned that the bulk of the British favors a decent observance of the laws of other countries, even if breaking these laws puts cash into the pockets of British citizens who do not care much how they make the money, so long as they make it.

Just how the United States will regard the treaty when it comes before it for action no one at present can make assertion with any degree of confidence. Some of the senators seem to think that any agreement entered into with any foreign government has hidden away in it somewhere a wedge which is to be used to enter the League of Nations. Every line and every word of a proposed treaty today is studied microscopically, because of the fear that beneath there may lie something deadly to the American policy, if it be a policy, of isolation.

SOAKS RIGHT IN AND LIMBERS UP STIFF JOINTS

Pharmacists Call It "Joint-Ease" Because It's For Swollen, Sore, Painful, Creaky Joints Only

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pain racked joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint-Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint-Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuralgia, neuritis, aching muscles, stitch in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments of any nature whatever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint-Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds rubbing. It surely is a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble.

The J. H. Lease Drug Co., Floding's drug store and Bolger & French's dispenses it daily for about 60 cents a tube, as do first class druggists everywhere.

Raising Goldfish.

Perhaps twenty years ago a farm in the Middle West had several small spring-fed ponds in which bass were raised. A few goldfish were put into the ponds, says the Guide to Nature, and the venture was so successful that today the goldfish farm produces more than half the goldfish sold in the United States. The greater number of the hatch are marketed the first year. The remainder of the fish are specially fed to bring them to the larger size required by special customers. Varieties raised for commercial purposes are comets, nymphs, fantails, telescopes and Chinese moors, that amazing variation which is of a dense, velvety black.

THEATRES

"The Unwanted Child"

Florence Edna May's sensational drama "The Unwanted Child" which is the attraction at the Grand theater starting Monday, with a ladies' matinee daily, deserves all the success it has had. A play of the intense type, essentially melodramatic in its conception, it holds the attention fast by reason of the gripping interest it portrays and its faithfulness to life. Theatergoers have always liked plays of this kind and always will. It's a play every mother and daughter should see.

genius is Metro's "Long Live the King" now the feature at the High school auditorium. Last night its premier in this city was attended by an appreciative audience.

The story of "Long Live the King" is a familiar one to readers of American books. It is a screen version of the famous novel of the same name written several years ago by Mary Roberts Rinehart and which attained a tremendous sale. It hinges around the romantic adventures of the little Crown Prince of Lavonia—a country threatened at every turn by revolution and anarchy. It is a highly exciting romance and the producers have not only lost none of the fascination of the novel, but have added to its delight by giving it a wonderfully beautiful presentation.

Henry Ford Operates Another Glass Plant

Detroit, Nov. 23.—Glass is now being made at the Ford Motor company's plant at River Rouge and brings the company one step further in its program to control the manufacture of practically everything entering into its products.

With the new factory in operation the third and largest glass producing unit of the company comes into being and the Ford method of making glass, which is a marvel to experts and which established an epoch in the industry, attains to higher and more efficient methods.

One furnace is now operating in the Rouge factory, fires have been lighted under the second and the remaining two, it is expected, will be going shortly after the first of the year. When the factory gets in full operation it will have an annual capacity of more than 10,000,000 square feet of glass.

The company's plant at Glassboro, Pa., has an annual output of 7,000,000 square feet while the smaller plant at Highland park, started about four years ago as an experiment and where the Ford method of glass making was developed daily produces 9,500 square feet of glass.

La Porte, Ind.—Crooked teeth led to the arrest of Vernon Longpre, a school boy here for the robbery of five stores. An unfinished cookie left in one of the stores showed the teeth to have been irregular. Each of the boys in Longpre's class was given a cookie while an official watched the bites taken from them. When Longpre's teeth mark corresponded to the cake left at the store he admitted his guilt.

The healthy look that
SYRUP PEPSIN
Gives is Nature's Own

Ladies! This Beats Cosmetics

GOOD health cannot be camouflaged by powder and rouge. The eyes will tell. That sparkle and clearness that denote good health will not be there if you are constipated.

Mrs. Clara Proctor of Pottersville, Mich., had been told by doctors she had this and that disease, and one advised an operation, but she knew she had been constipated all her life so first tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. She avoided the operation and now feels better than she ever did. Likewise Mrs. William Appleton of Eddington, Pa., who was badly constipated and now looks her best again after using Syrup Pepsin.

On Sale for 30 Years

Intelligent women are realizing that health and mere outward complexion are two different things, and more and more are taking Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Over 10 million bottles were bought in drug stores last year, the largest selling liquid laxative in the world! Go to your druggist and buy a bottle. The cost is less than a cent a dose. You will see how much more effective a spoonful of Syrup

Pepsin is than tablets, powders or pills, and without shock to the system.

Safe Family Laxative
Use it regularly a day before and a day after the periods. The gentle emptying of the bowels will give you relief, and lessen headaches and congestion. Take a spoonful at bed-time and see how much better you feel in the morning. It is a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with agreeable aromatics, and entirely safe not only for you but for the youngest child. Keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin constantly in the home for you or some other member of the family may need it any moment to relieve constipation, to break up fevers and colds, to clear up biliousness, indigestion, a pimple, a fever sore and other disturbances that show constipation.
